

SO - WHO IS AUNT DEBB?

Aunt Debb is that “mom” in the neighborhood that always had a house full of kids. Whether it was her own kids and their friends when they were younger, her nieces, nephews, and now - her grandkids and their friends. She’s the house you go to when you need a bite to eat or just wanna hang out. Her house always welcomes you! And now, she’s welcoming in young entrepreneurs to spotlight their talents, desires, interests, and businesses. Everyone has that “aunt” in their family or in the neighborhood, and that aunt for all of us is “Aunt Debb”!

WHAT IS THE AUNT DEBB SHOW?

“My house was always full - full of love and children. Chances are, if you know me and you have kids, “Aunt Debb” has some sort of connection with them. I feel like that is my calling!”

The Aunt Debb Show is the vision of Debra Edwards. Mother of 6 and grandmother of 18. Debra has always been surrounded by children, including her nieces and nephews.

“The Aunt Debb Show came to my spirit when I was in the hospital with Covid fighting to breathe. The experience changed, moved, and inspired me to pursue my passion, which is empowering our youth. I have had the name Aunt Debb since I was 8 years old.”

After 35 years as a government employee, Debra, like many individuals during and post Covid, decided that time waits for no one. If the Aunt Debb Show was going to become reality, she needed to start now.

The Aunt Debb Show features interviews and spotlights of young entrepreneurs from across the country. From online sales to storefronts, the children and kidpreneurs featured on the Aunt Debb Show are the future business owners of America.

Not just your lemonade stands or throwing newspapers on porches, kids are starting businesses today, from social media influencers to online retail. The Aunt Debb show spotlights them all with a twist.

Created to empower - this weekly program will provide tips, tools, and resources for those in business and those that want to be.
